Vocabulary Scale 5760 to 5780

DEVOTION (di-vO'-shən) n.: faithfulness, dedication, loyalty

Someone who is DEVOTED is attached or dedicated to a purpose, cause, or person.

"They are DEVOTED to the idea of world peace."

DEVOTION is the quality of being DEVOTED; it is faithfulness, dedication, loyalty.

- "Everyone admired her DEVOTION to her sick parents."
- "He was fired because he didn't show enough DEVO-TION to his duties."

Other forms of the word: DEVOTE, v. DEVOTED, adj.

CIRCUMSTANCE (ser'-kəm-stans) n.: a condition,

CIRCUMSTANCES are the conditions or facts surrounding some event or situation.

- "I cannot make a decision about this until I know all the CIRCUMSTANCES."
- "We were unaware of the terrible CIRCUMSTANCES at his home; both parents were ill and there was no food in the house."
- "Each CIRCUMSTANCE must be taken into account before we decide what to do."
- "She died under mysterious CIRCUMSTANCES."

Usage: CIRCUMSTANCE is generally used in the plural: CIRCUMSTANCES.

ABOLISH (2-bol'-ish) v.: to do away with, end

To ABOLISH something is to put an end to it or to do away with it. The word is used especially about laws, customs, and practices rather than about physical objects.

- "President Lincoln ABOLISHED slavery in America."
- "Our family voted to ABOLISH the tradition of giving expensive gifts on birthdays."
- "Will mankind ever ABOLISH war?"

The noun from ABOLISH is ABOLITION.

"The student council voted for the ABOLITION of the dress code. They said students should wear whatever they like."

Other forms of the word: ABOLITION, n.

DECEASED (di-sEst') adj.: dead

DECEASED means dead. It is used only about people, and often refers to someone who is recently dead.

- "The DECEASED man's will was read to his relatives a month after he died."
- "Al Johnson is now DECEASED, but he was once the richest man in town."

DECEASED is also a noun and means the dead person.

"The wishes of the DECEASED must be respected in this matter."

DOZE (dOz) v.: to sleep lightly

To DOZE is to fall into a light sleep.

- "He DOZED for a while, then awoke with a start and realized he had missed the TV show."
- "I must have DOZED off while doing my homework."

DOZE is also a noun.

"The speech was so boring Joan fell into a DOZE after the first few minutes."

Usage: DOZE is often followed by off.

BAWL (bôl) v.: to cry loudly, shout

To BAWL means "to cry or shout loudly and continuously." Babies BAWL; animals BAWL; children who are very unhappy BAWL.

- "We could hear the baby BAWLING in the next room."
- "The cattle in the stockyard BAWLED in fear and confusion."

When you get "BAWLED out" you get a loud scolding; someone shouts at you for doing something wrong.

"Her mother BAWLED her out for coming home late."

ASSASSIN (2-sas'-in) n.: a murderer, killer

An ASSASSIN is a murderer or killer, especially one who is paid for killing or who kills a public official.

"They caught the ASSASSIN of the president."

"The ASSASSIN prepared very carefully to murder his victim."

The verb from ASSASSIN is ASSASSINATE, which means to murder or kill.

"Several Roman emperors were ASSASSINATED."
"The madman ASSASSINATED the mayor."

Other forms of the word: ASSASSINATE, v. ASSASSINATION, n.

ENCOURAGE (en-kuhr'-ij) v.: to put courage into, urge on, stimulate, hearten, foster

See in-1 under Prefixes. ENCOURAGE basically means "to put courage into."

"The soldiers needed to be ENCOURAGED before the battle."

As the word is used today it means to urge or help someone to do something, through words or example or in some other way.

"Her presence ENCOURAGED him to try again."
"My parents ENCOURAGED me to be a doctor."

What is ENCOURAGED can be either good or bad.

"His early success ENCOURAGED him in his life of crime."

It doesn't have to be a person who is ENCOURAGED.

"The plan was designed to ENCOURAGE small businesses."

Other forms of the word: ENCOURAGEMENT, n. ENCOURAGING, adj.

CONVENIENT (kən-vEn'-yənt) adj.: handy, useful, suitable

Something that is CONVENIENT is near at hand or easy to use. It is well suited for your comfort or ease.

"He found a CONVENIENT spot near the river and pitched his tent there."

"I don't care when you come. Pick the time that is most CONVENIENT for you."

"The soap comes in a CONVENIENT new package that we're sure you'll like."

The noun from CONVENIENT is CONVENIENCE.

"He arranged the schedule for his own CONVE-NIENCE. He didn't care if it caused problems for other people."

Other forms of the word: CONVENIENCE, n.

DEFECT (dE'-fekt) n.: a fault, flaw, imperfection

A DEFECT is something wrong or damaged, a fault.

"The DEFECT in the jacket was hardly noticeable. It was just a tiny hole near the button."

"The DEFECT in his plan was that there was no way we could get the money to carry it out."

"He admitted that his quick temper was a DEFECT in his character."

The adjective from DEFECT is DEFECTIVE. DEFECTIVE means damaged, "having flaws or faults."

"The lamp was DEFECTIVE: sometimes it would light and sometimes it wouldn't."

"We didn't realize the air conditioner was DEFEC-TIVE until we tried to use it."

Other forms of the word: DEFECTIVE, adj.

CIRCULATE (ser'-kyə-lAt) v.: to move around, spread, flow freely

CIRCULATE is related to the word circle. It means "to move around and around."

"Blood CIRCULATES in our bodies; it takes about ten minutes for a complete cycle."

"We could hear the water CIRCULATING in the pipes."

CIRCULATE also means "to go freely from one place to another," to spread. In this sense the word can be used about ideas, information, and the like.

"The news of her arrival CIRCULATED through the waiting crowd within a few moments."

"They CIRCULATED a petition asking that there be less homework on the weekends."

Other forms of the word: CIRCULATION, n.

69

ENCOUNTER (en-kown'-ter) n.: a chance meeting; a battle, conflict

An ENCOUNTER is a meeting, especially a face-to-face meeting. There are two different uses of ENCOUNTER. The first is for any casual, unplanned meeting.

"John had an unexpected ENCOUNTER with his old friend yesterday."

The second and more common use is for a sudden and perhaps violent coming together of enemies.

"The bloody ENCOUNTER left six men injured."

ENCOUNTER is also used as a verb, and means to come upon, meet, confront.

"The two old enemies ENCOUNTERED each other in the middle of the battle."

AUTHORITY (a-thôr'-a-tE) n.: power, right

AUTHORITY is the power or right to make people do something.

- "He received the AUTHORITY to collect taxes in his district."
- "The AUTHORITY of the laws was disregarded by the rebels."
- "As they grew older, Mrs. Smith's children resisted her AUTHORITY more and more."

Another meaning of AUTHORITY is "a person who has expert knowledge of something."

- "He became the AUTHORITY on the development of young children."
- "She is an AUTHORITY on Shakespeare."

DEFORMED (di-fôrmd') adj.: disfigured, misshappen

To DEFORM something is to take it out of its natural form or shape. See de- under Prefixes. When something is DEFORMED, then, it is not shaped properly; it is disfigured.

"His leg was DEFORMED as a result of the accident."
"The baby survived, but it was permanently DE.FORMED."

DEFORMED usually suggests something that is ugly or offensive.

"When he was very upset, his face would become DE-FORMED with rage."

In the Pretest, many people choose destroyed as the meaning of DEFORMED. Something that is DEFORMED still exists, it is just misshapen; it has not been destroyed.

Other forms of the word: DEFORM, v. DEFORMITY, n.

CONFIDENT (kon'-fə-dənt) adj.: sure, assured

Someone who is CONFIDENT firmly believes that he is right or that he can do something. He doesn't have any fears or doubts about himself.

- "I am CONFIDENT that I will succeed. No one can stop me now."
- "She was CONFIDENT she had passed the exam, but she hadn't expected an A."
- "The salesman walked CONFIDENTLY up to them and told them why they should buy this car."

A person who is CONFIDENT has CONFIDENCE.

- "Every success he had gave him a little more CONFI-DENCE that he could do the job."
- "All Jim lacks is CONFIDENCE. He just doesn't think he's good enough."

The most commonly chosen incorrect answer is mysterious. This may be because CONFIDENT looks like confidential, which means secret.

Other forms of the word: CONFIDENCE, n.
